Diabetology & Metabolic Syndrome*, the official journal of the Brazilian Diabetes Society (SBD), is an open access, peer reviewed, online journal that aims to further the understanding of all aspects of diabetes and metabolic syndrome.

The journal presents original material on any aspect of laboratory, animal or clinical research about the physiology and pathophysiology of diabetes and metabolic syndrome. Through offering a high-visibility forum for new insights and discussions, the journal aims to help health care providers improve the management of people afflicted by these syndromes by increasing knowledge and stimulating research in the field.

Diabetology & Metabolic Syndrome reports on basic research and clinical studies in the areas of genetics, pathophysiology, immunology, epidemiology, clinical management, therapeutic strategies, education, nutrition and psychosocial research relevant for the study of diabetes and metabolic syndrome.

The journal considers the following article types: research, reviews, commentaries, case reports, short reports and letters to the Editor. For further details, see www.dmsjournal.com/info/about/.

Reasons for publishing in Diabetology & Metabolic Syndrome:

- All articles published in the journal are open access; universally accessible online without charge.
